

1

TAPE Sculpture

CLING FILM
↙

SCISSORS
↙

Packaging tape

SELLOTAPE
↙

An object
↙

2

CLINGFILM VERSION

1

Find any object you would like to sculpt.

2

Wrap your object all over in clingfilm, nice and tight.

3

Using your tape, wrap your object in 4/5 layers of tape.

3

Smoothing as you go.
It is easier to cut strips of tape and wrap.

4

5

Carefully cut with scissors along the back of your object.
Please have an adult
help or do this for you.

6

Pull the object out and remove the clingfilm from inside.

7

using the same tape,
Seal up all sides back up together again.

4

NON CLINGFILM VERSION

1

Find an object you would like to sculpt.

2

Using your tape, wrap your object up. The first layer you wrap should be sticky side up.

First layer
Sticky side up
←

3

The rest of the layers will be easier. This time wrap around your object, sticky side down!

5

You can use long strips to wrap it, allowing the sticky ends to overlap.

4

5

Repeat parts 3-5 the same (except there is no clingfilm to pull out)

6

You could try and create a new sculpture by taping lots of different objects together!

6

TRY A PERSON!

1

You can use any version you wish, however, if you choose the non cling film version, NEVER tape directly onto the skin. ALWAYS over clothing!

2

The easiest way to create a sculpture of a whole person is to do one body part at a time.

3

Then fix, using the same tape, all your parts together.